LOMA LINDA

Network inaugurates new TV studio

The Loma Linda Broadcasting Network will inaugurate its new studio next month with a program open to the public.

The daylong celebration Saturday will kick off the 8:30 a.m. service from the University Church, 11125 Campus St., with the public broadcasting at the new studio scheduled at noon.

A tour of Studio 104 includes viewing of the control rooms during the broadcasting. Christian - musical entertainment will be broadcasted from the church stage.

Network President Ganim Hanna said programming will range from spiritual to health and family issues.
