Studio 1 Reopens. Hosts Major LIVE Prayer Special for Pacific Union Conference

The reopening of LLBN’s Studio 1 after three months of remodeling went smoothly and successfully. Its first major production was a two-day ‘Call to Prayer’ LIVE special on behalf of the Pacific Union Conference (PUC) Prayer Committee.

“We couldn’t have taken on a bigger challenge than hosting the PUC in our newly remodeled studio for their major prayer effort,” said Derrell Mundall, LLBN’s VP of Programming and director for the Friday evening and next day, five-hour Sabbath event.

Everything worked exceptionally well. The new set was stunning, according to many of the program’s viewers and participants.

LLBN Network Directors Help Rededicate Studio 1 on 'Christian Connections'

After suspending production in late June for Studio 1 remodeling, 'Christian Connections', one of LLBN's longest-running programs, resumed live shows with a special reopening event.

The episode was a formal rededication of the facility to proclaim Christ's end-time message to the world via the highly influential medium of television. This was hallmarked by the presence of all six Directors of LLBN's foreign language networks – LLBN Arabic, LLBN Chinese, LLBN Latino, LLBN Korean and LLBN South Asia. Each described the motivation and purpose behind their desire to spread God's Word to these specific nations and regions.

A special prayer of rededication was given by LLBN Board Member Dr. David Taylor and Pr. Dan Smith, host of LLBN's popular 'LLBN Worship' program and long-time speaker and supporter of LLBN.
