

LLBN wishes you a JOYFUL CHRISTMAS

Dear Loyal Friend of LLBN,

The years do seem to come to an end rather quickly, don't they? Now we are entering that time when we honor our dear Savior's birth. It always makes me think of that tiny Baby, lying in a sheep or cattle feed trough. I can almost see His smile, with His tiny hand wrapped around Mary's finger. Who can resist a baby's smile?

I also wonder at what point that Baby first realized the Mission ahead of Him. But we know He fulfilled it, according to His Father's plan. And Jesus passed onto us an obligation of letting others know about Him and His Plan for Salvation. It's the only reason LLBN has for existing.

As you know, many organizations depend upon this end-of-year giving drive to give them a boost into the next year. LLBN is the same. We deeply depend upon our only source of income, you and other donors, to cover our expenses. That's why I'm asking you, today, to be as generous as possible in order for us to do our work.

What is our work? Informing and reminding viewers of Christ's love and His Plan, thus offering them hope, peace, and eternal life, even though this world is becoming increasingly ugly. We do this in so many parts of the world in eight languages, and without ceasing, all day, every day of the year.

So, as you can see, in a way, you are being seen and heard by millions, through your giving. Honestly, your gift goes very far, in more ways than one. And we here at the Network never forget that, and thank you very, very much.

After you have given prayerful consideration, please return the enclosed card and envelope with as large a gift as you can do. At this end, we will make sure every cent goes toward our operations. We value the trust you put in us.

May this holiday season be one of your best, and may the joy brought to Earth by the Christ Child carry you through the New Year.

Blessings to you and those you love,

Ganim Hanna, LLBN President/CEO
